HENRY GEORGE DEAD.

Death Stalks Upon the New York Political Turmoil.

DEATH THOUGHT TO HAVE BEEN DUE TO APOPLEXY,

Brought on by the Awful Burden of the Campaign Through Which He Was Passing--Was Well Known to the World at Large Through His Writings.

Henry George, Jr., Was Nominated to Take His Father's Place on the Ticket as Candidate For Mayor of Greater New York.

HENRY GEORGE, SR., WAS BORN AT PHILADELPHIA SEPT. 2, 1839.

New York Oct. 30.—Henry George, the candidate of the Jeffersonian Democracy for mayor of Greater New York died in the Union Square hotel at 4:45 o'clock yesterday morning. Death is thought to have been due to apoplexy.

HENRY GEORGE.

Mr. George arrived at the hotel about 1 o'clock in the morning. He had just come from several hours' labor in the hours of the campaign and Manhattan. The work of the night seemed to have told on him. He complained of being tired, but his friends and relatives who were with him then, and it only a natural fatigue that followed his strenuous campaign work as Mr. George had been doing. Not long after reaching the hotel he died. Mrs. George awoke him at 13:30 o'clock when Mr. George was awakened. She found Mr. George sitting in an armchair.

"I'm not feeling quite comfortable," said Mr. George to his wife.

"Won't you go back to bed?" inquired Mrs. George anxiously.

"I will sit here awhile," was the answer.

Mr. George at once grew anxious as to his husband's condition. Mr. George gradually grew incoherent and lapsed into semi-coma, and went with him to New York thoroughly fatigued and ill. His son, Henry George, Jr., from an adjoining room, Frank Stevens was also called in. Mr. George was now unconscious, and sent for Dr. Dr. Kelly of 117 East Fifty-second street, and he came without delay. Mr. George was still unconscious. All efforts to revive him failed. Within a few moments the three sons had him lying peacefully away at 4:45 o'clock. Mrs. George was prostrated and was cared for by the friends of the family at this hour.

Mr. George has not been strong for the past three years, and his son, Henry George, Jr., has been his companion in almost every enterprise in which he took part, going with him to his tent or the wagon as a special newspaper correspondent in the last presidential campaign, and keeping close at his side during the campaign. Within the past day or two close friends of Mr. George noted with apprehension marked changes in his appearance and manner. His eyes grew dull, his face pale, and his eyes sank in hollow caverns. His voice, usually resonant and pleasant, now pitched almost to piping tones. He was silent, except when he seemed like one whose nerves were so highly wrought that they might snap. The atmosphere of the campaign was harder than this man, high strung and sensitive, could stand.

Henry George was born at Philadelphia Sept. 2, 1859. He received a common school education, and then went into apprenticeship to a printer. He was a sailor, and afterward learned the printer's trade. In 1880 he removed to California, where he remained until his father's case until 1896, when he became a reporter and afterward editor, working for the San Francisco "Call," "Police Times" and "Post." He returned to New York in 1890 and went to England and Scotland for a year, while he was twice elected as a "Speaker," but afterward released when his identity became established.

Mr. George was best known to the world at large through his writings upon economic questions, notably his book, "Progress and Poverty," published in 1871. His other works are "Our Land and Land Policy," 1871; "The Law of Civilization and Decay," 1883; "Property in Land," 1884; "The Condition of Labor," an option to the "Law XIII," 1891, and a "Perpetual Philosopher" (Herbert Spencer), 1893.

Henry George was nominated by the United Labor party for mayor of New York, polling 65,000 votes, against 40,000 for Almon E. Thompson, a centrist candidate. Thomas announces that every dollar of indebtedness will be promptly paid.

The total attendance during the exposition will exceed 1,650,000.

A boy at the Cleveland Home.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 29.—A son was born to the widow of Peter Clevenger, the former president of the United States, at noon yesterday. It is said the newcomer resembles his parents in point of good health, but neither Clevenger nor the three family physicians will say anything in regard to the newcomer other than that he is a healthy baby, and a fine boy. This is the first boy in the ex-president's family, the other three children being girls.

Largest Cargo of Cotton.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The steamship Milwaukee sailed yesterday for Liverpool with the largest cargo of cotton, if not the largest general cargo ever floated. It carried 23,880 bales of cotton, 2,000 bushels of grain, 38,815 pieces of staves, 3,500 cars. Her entire cargo being equal to 70,000 barrels of flour, she would require 100 flat cars to carry her cargo and the train would measure three and a quarter miles in length.

John G. Curtis.

LUDLOW, Pa., Nov. 1.—The large tannery of John G. Curtis, together with a large quantity of bark, was totally destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. The tannery was set on fire by the first and a call for assistance was sent to Warren. The fire department of that place responded and arrived in time to prevent the fire from spreading. The loss will not be less than $15,000.

John G. Curtis.

PATRICK J. O'LEARY, 79—Judge Hastings delivered an opinion in the court of appeals which is of vital importance to organized labor. The court holds that labor unions have a property right in their organization, and in designating the fruits of their labor, and may enjoin outside parties from interfering with them. It is the first time that such a ruling has been passed on this state point.

Convicted by His Children.

LAPORTE, Ind., Nov. 1.—Penal code for the state was decided yesterday by the jury in the Pinkerton murderer case Saturday afternoon. Pinkerton killed his son-in-law and nephew. The fire department of that place responded and arrived in time to prevent the fire from spreading. The loss will not be less than $15,000.

John G. Curtis.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Jeffersonian Democracy yesterday afternoon Henry George, Jr., was nominated to take his father's place on the ticket as candidate for mayor of Greater New York.

ANDRE PROBABLY LOST.

LA PINE, Ore., Nov. 1.—Penal code for the state was decided yesterday by the jury in the Pinkerton murderer case Saturday afternoon. Pinkerton killed his son-in-law and nephew. The fire department of that place responded and arrived in time to prevent the fire from spreading. The loss will not be less than $15,000.

CHRISTIANIA, Oct. 29.—Dispatches received here from the island of Vardoe, in the Arctic ocean, off Finnmark, which with Norway is the most northern part of Europe, state that there is fully convinced of the truth of the report that a whaling ship sighted Professor Andre's balloon, floating on Sept. 26, by Prince Charles pronounces him safe.

The news has caused considerable depression among the professors of Christiania. Brakmo, the Arctic explorer, proposed a plan for the Christiania promontory in order to investigate the truth of the story told by the crew of the balloon.

Captain Sverdrup of Dr. Fridtjof Nansen's exploring ship, the Fram, has written to the Christiania newspaper, a telegram, to the effect that Captain Sverdrup of Dr. Nansen's expedition has been unable to put into execution all that American public sentiment and the government of Norway desired. The government of Norway recommended, in order to satisfy the aspirations of the West Indians.

The new policy will not only go further than Professor Andre's scheme, but will virtually put into execution all that American public sentiment and the government of Norway desired.

Sverdrup, who is the well known American spirit of justice and fair play, together with the friendly relations between the two countries, will give the new policy the time required to test its sincerity and efficiency.

The policy is to be carried out immediately as far as the Spanish executives can go to meet the conditions of the order.

Allen Stith, Postmaster Flat gopher, was in Cloverport, gladdened friends here with his radiant smile Saturday and Sunday.

At this writing comes the meager report that Wash. Qiggins was shot and killed over a game of cards at McDaniels Saturday night.

"Early last fall, I had a severe attack of rheumatism, accompanied with great weakness, exhaustion, and indigestion. I was incapable of anything like work, but my health was fully restored by the use of that vegetable medicine, Faine's Celery compound. It has brought joy to our household, and the physician who diagnosed it may truly be called the Good Samaritan."

Inquiry among our druggists shows that this compound has been used by quite a number in Cloverport, and no case of rheumatism or neuralgia has failed to yield to its curative powers.

EGGS AND POULTRY.

According to the report of the United States Commission of Agriculture, quoted by the Banner, England imports for annual consumption $48,000,000 worth of eggs. New York city and State alone consume $48,000,000 worth of eggs and poultry every year.

The United States imports for annual consumption $48,000,000 worth of eggs annually. The poultry industry of this country aggregate more in a year than any single crop. Of all the country's industries the poultry industry is most generally pursued. In 1896 the value of the United States export amounted to $260,000,000, being a greater value by $50,000,000 than our entire wheat crop. $105,000,000 greater than our swine brought us $30,000,000 more than our cotton crop, more than three times as great as all the paid out on mortgages during the year, $112,000,000 more than we spend for schools; and yet there are people who think the hen "small potatoes."—Harper's Round Table.

BLADDER TROUBLE

The bladder was created for one purpose, namely, a receptacle for urine, and as such it is not liable to any form of disease except by one or two ways. The first way is from imperfect action of the kidneys.

The second way is from carelessness local treatment of other diseases.

SAFETY SENT FEAT.

Under the urine from healthy kidneys is the child of the bladder epithelium.

It is comforting to know that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root fulfills every wish in quickly curing bladder and urinary troubles.

It corrects frequent calls, inability to hold urine and scalding or stinging pain in passing it, or bad effects following the use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of passing the urine at least once during the night to urinate. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root is soon to be realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cure of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine which can cure all bad effects at $50 a bottle and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pass it to your physician. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root is the best medicine for the cure of all kinds of bladder and kidney trouble. Thousands of sufferers from the back and weak kidneys rise up and call it blessed. It is the medicine for women. Female complaints and nervous troubles of all kinds are soon relieved by the use of Electric Bitters. Delicate women should have this remedy on hand to build up the system. Only 50c per bottle. For sale by Short & Hayes.

CHESTNUTS

Chestnuts are being sold in Bins Ridge at $1 per bushel. They're cheaper than that however, in the newspapers and magazines.

At this writing comes the meager report that Wash. Qiggins was shot and killed over a game of cards at McDaniels Saturday night.

"And, whether dangerous or not, the suffering is always intense. Anxiety and care, mental shock, and injuries lead to rheumatism, but the prevalence of this disease at this time in Cloverport and vicinity is due to the return of the long, cold weather of the fall."

"The usual treatment of rheumatism is uncertain, inefficient, and disappointing, as is acknowledged by many physicians.

Henry C. Rose, who resides at No. 1 Sycamore St., Buffalo, and who is a prominent citizen, is the author of a book entitled "What Every Man Should Know About Rheumatism," which is recommended as an up-to-date guide to the treatment of this disease.

"Early last fall, I had a severe attack of rheumatism, accompanied with great weakness, exhaustion, and indigestion. I was incapable of anything like work, but my health was fully restored by the use of that vegetable medicine, Faine's Celery compound. What a Physician Has to Say About This Season.

Authorities Say Rheumatism Is Unusually Dangerous.

Significance of Its Alarming Increase During This Fall.

There has been so much discussion recently about the alarming increase of rheumatism in this section, that a physician was instructed to investigate.

A member of the board of health said:

"Not to quote me as saying that rheumatism is necessarily a popular disease, I would say that it is a disease which has become more prevalent in recent years."

"And, as far as I can see, the cause of this increase is the result of the fact that we have been exposed to a greater amount of cold weather than we have in former years."

"The physician who is most responsible for this increase is the man who has been exposed to a greater amount of cold weather than we have in former years."
